The overwhelming majority of parents deeply love and care about their children. Unfortunately, for many high risk families, repeated frustrations and failures combined with the daily stresses of life often lead to feelings of helplessness. Parents may have given up because they felt success was unattainable.

The Parent Project is an entirely new parent training model. It not only delivers new skills and insights, it rekindles hope. Parent attending Parent Project classes have the opportunity to experience success at home within the first week.

The Parent Project was developed over a ten year period while working with thousands of high-risk families. It is designed to revive parent's desire, teach the skills, and provide the practical and emotional support they need to change destructive adolescent behavior. It directly addresses some of the most serious questions we are asked again and again.
